Superintendent's Highlights

The district is continuing on with curriculum development and alignment. We are involved in a curriculum unity project with Region VI. We have adopted new graduation standards that are set at a higher level and have also implemented the process of a Senior Project so that graduates may demonstrate skills acquired in their time in school.

BHS Trade and Industry students have completed many outstanding projects. The most profound project is the completion of steel football bleachers that will seat 500 people. They have also built a 40' x 50' outdoor shelter and have planned many more projects for the coming year. They will be involved in cross-disciplinary projects with the science, math, and English classes as well.

Progress Towards Meeting District Goals

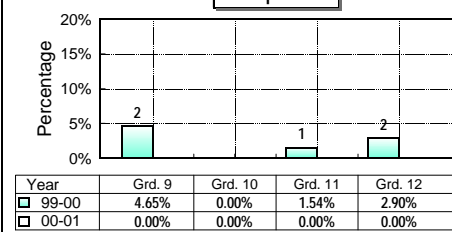

2000-01 Goals	Progress
Assessment literacy and curriculum development	A cadre of teachers have been trained in "Data Not Guesswork"- an assessment training.
	The District has continued with curriculum development and joined with Region VI Curriculum Consortium in a curriculum unity project. This work will continue throughout the summer of 2001. It will be added to the capacity building that has already been done. All teachers are being trained in Charolette Danielson's "Enhancing Professional Practice A"Framework for Teaching" using the ICAT model of teacher development and mentoring.
